3rd Tues. of the each month 6:30-8:00 p.m.
Starting October 17th
Online via Zoom

It's common for caregivers and family members to have feelings of loss and grief after a loved one who had Alzheimer's or another dementia passes away. You're entitled to these emotions and sharing your feelings and seeking support may help you through this process. Caring for a loved one with dementia presents many distinct challenges that continue to show up in grief.

This group provides a safe and confidential environment for conversations, support, resources and education. Attendance is free. We'll support your grieving process, explore issues specific to dementia related grief, provide understanding and validation of feelings and attend to your unique needs after the death of a loved one with dementia.
